SUNBURST

UNIOR COLLEGE OF KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

DEDICATION:

For the past forty years, Junior College of Kansas City, Missouri has prospered and progressed with the able assistance of Miles G. Blim. In his various capacities as instructor, assistant Dean, and Dean he has given his time and effort toward advancing Junior College to the impressive position it holds today. During this time he has displayed outstanding devotion to and understanding of both students and faculty, who in return have grown to admire and respect him. In appreciation for his service to us and to our school we dedicate our 1963 Sunburst to Dean Blim.

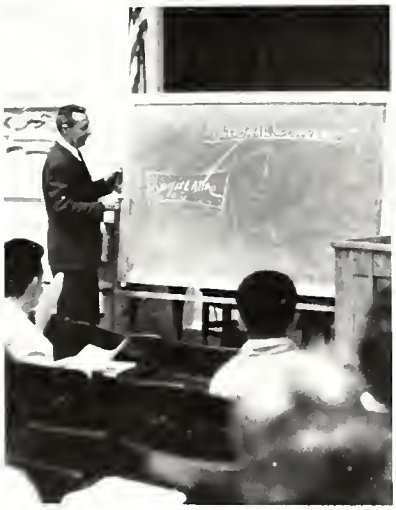
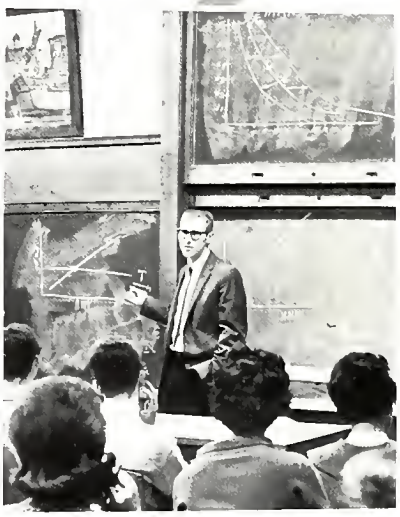
Mr. Stockmeyer admits – "England did have a few faults."



Mr. Hatley discusses a government far the people – by the people – and without the people!

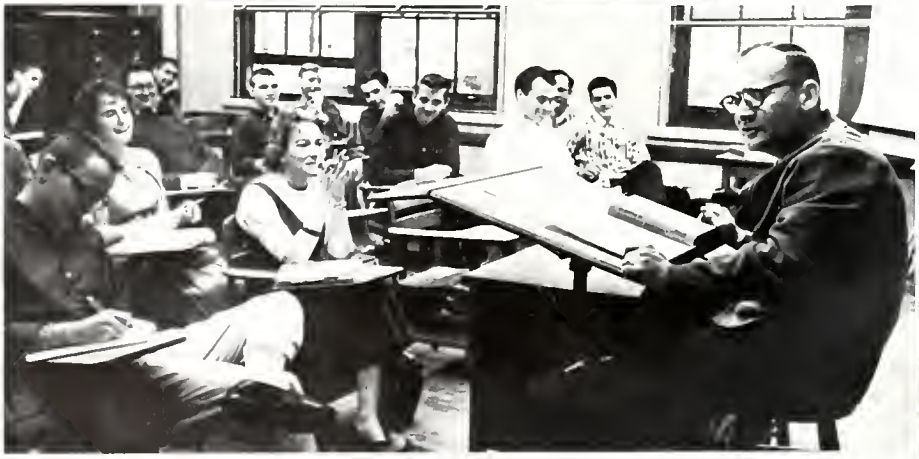
SOCIAL SCIENCES

The social sciences -- history, sociology, western civilization, economics, and political science -- provide the student with a general knowledge of the past and present behaviar of man, and the rise and fall of his civilizations.



Ican, Ucan, 'ecan, wecan, Ucan, theycan.

History repeats itself – repeats itself – repeats itself —



Mr. Burnham says – "I'll bet Socrates didn't have all these absentees."

So What?

PHILOSOPHY AND PSYCHOLOGY

These courses are designed to make intelligible the various phases of human experience. They attempt to give students a better understanding of the world in which they live and their place in it.

MADE IN JAPAN

"But Miss Moseley, I thought 'The Thinker' posed in the nude?"

Bill Leavens

General business courses include accounting, business law, marketing, business statistics, and business management. For the secretarial student there are also typing, shorthand, procedures courses and other courses to provide special skills. The department provides a broad range of work both for the transfer student and those who take jobs immediately after graduating from J.C.

BUSINESS . . . . .

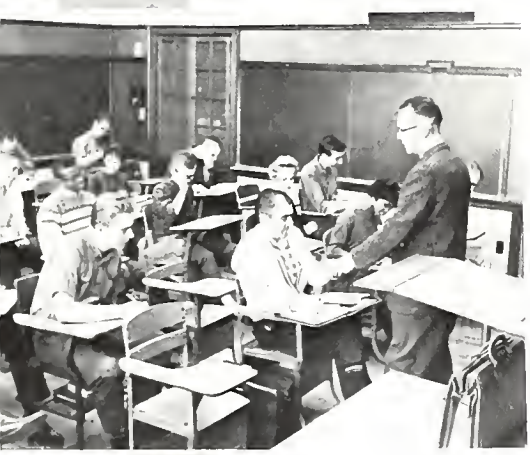
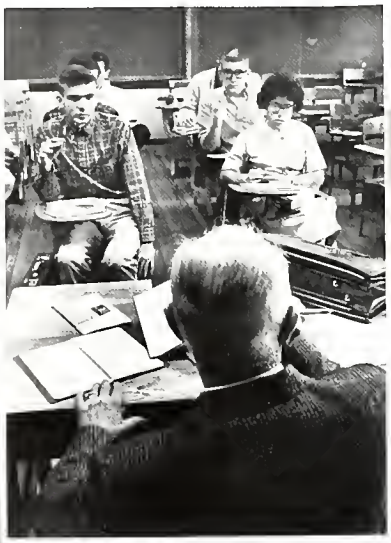
ENGLISH . . . . .



Dr. Wilkins deals out pop quizzes . . .



Dr. Lowless discusses folk singers with his class.

English courses are basic to any college curriculum. All courses require the ability to read with comprehension and write clearly and accurately. The English department at J. C. develops these skills as well as studying literature and the literary masters.

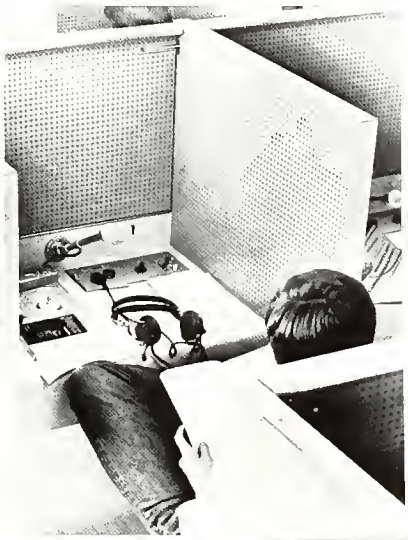
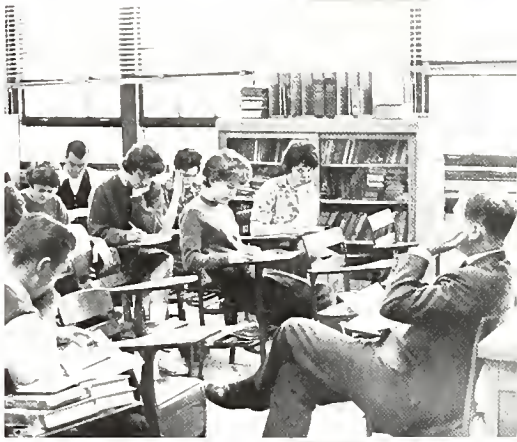
. . . . . "and Now for our next hymn."

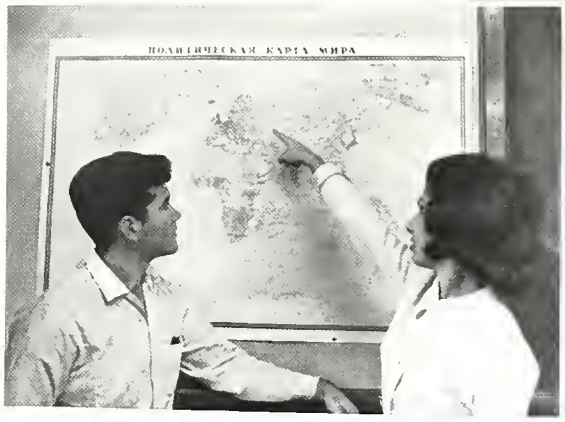
LANGUAGES . . . . .



— to heck with it.



Buenos Dias, Madmoiselle fraulein.



"We must go to'ward to the New Frontier."

The foreign language department of J. C., offers two slavic languages – Russian and German, and two romance languages – Spanish and French. Some type of foreign language is required at almost any college, and at J.C. the language courses are taught well and made interesting under the hand of experienced teachers.

"Cooch, its time to drain the pool again."

MEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION . . . . .

Well, You've put your foot in it now

SPEECH . . . . .

A fascinated class looks on as a student demonstrates his weight lifting ability.

The speech department affords an opportunity for students to gain experience in speaking before a group, and also in the preparation and delivery of their own speech material. A required course at J. C., speech develops confidence and poise applicable to all facets of life.

"Oo-tay ee-bay ar at-nay ao-tay eebay."

MUSIC . . . . .

5000 More green stamps. and we can get the strings!

The J. C. chorus, directed by Miss Nelsen rehearses for a performance.

With their performances in public and in the classroom, the music students exercise their vocal talents. In addition they have fine opportunities to probe the mysteries of harmony. Christmas and Spring Festival are two highlights of the musical year.

Members of the J. C. choir prepare to make their debut.

Art courses attract many students . .

The art courses at Junior College may include a study of the various schools of art and their respective artists, the history of art, or drawing classes where students may develop their own talents. The highlight of the year for the art students is the fine arts festival, presented every year by Junior College.

"I'm forever blowing bubbles" . . . .

HOME ECONOMICS . . . . .

"We have fun with our Barbie Dolls."

"I wonder where the yellow went?"

The Home Economics students may study in fields including dress designing, dietetics, or interior decoration. J. C. offers a home-ec course which provides a foundation to excel in any of these careers, or in the all important one of homemaker.

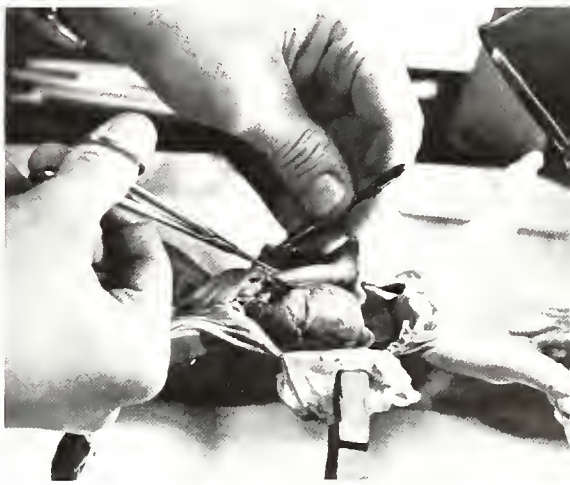
NIGHT SCHOOL

Junior College is an around-the-clock institution. The evening program of Junior College is an extension of the day program, and is organized primarily for students who are employed through the day. The program parallels the regular day sessions in class time, course time, and course content, but the type of student varies from the typical day student in his attitude and responsibility in school. Most of the night school students maintain jobs in addition to their studies, and are more apt to place a higher value on receiving their education.



This really takes guts.

Bill Magee and George Balsy entertain themselves before class.

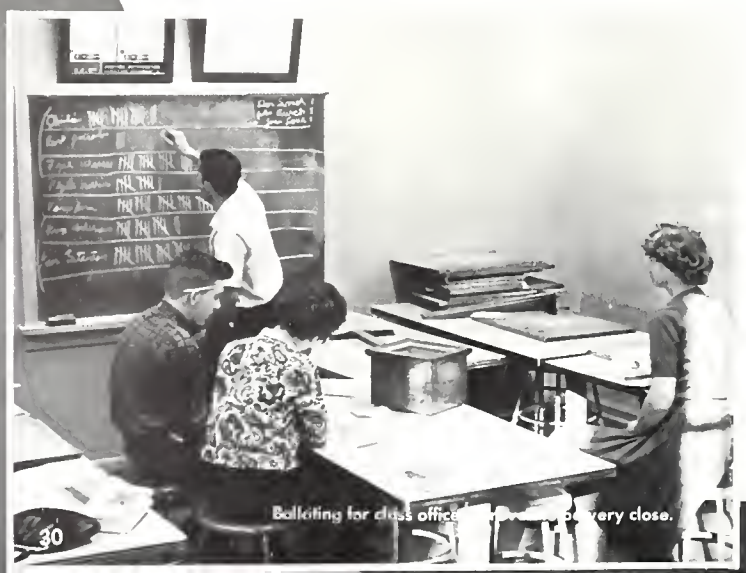
ACTIVITIES
JUNIOR COLLEGE

Student Service

The dance committee plans the year's social events.

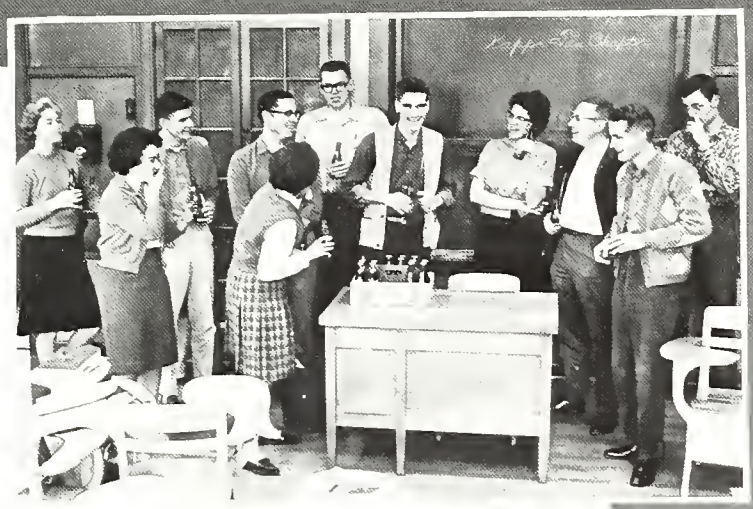
o speaks at Orient

Student Service is one of the most valuable and useful organizations at Junior College. Some of its many functions are: decorating for the Junior College dances, participating in orientation, and, up to this point, they have served as the student government. The student service committee, composed of both freshmen and sophomores, is a group of people who give of their time, talents, and efforts in order that we may have school events that are purposeful and smooth-running.



Balloting for class offic very close.

Phi Theta Kappa



I'll drink to that!

Phi Theta Kappa is Junior College's most exclusive organization, as the membership is limited to the select few who have maintained the required scholarship average throughout the year. The members of this organization not only represent the highest scholastic achievement, but they also render valuable services to their school, such as sponsoring the publication of the student directory, and the scholarship plaque.

SNEA

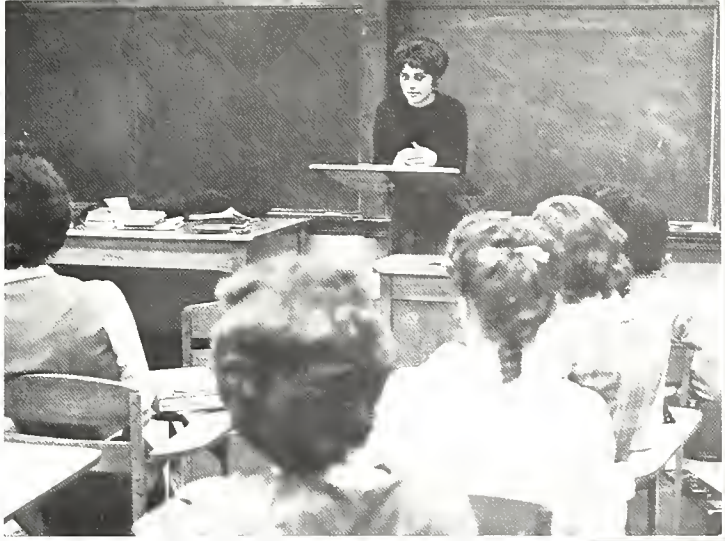
SNEA keeps pasted.

SNEA is the student branch of the National Education Association which has as its function, the development of a professional attitude toward education. The organization also helps students gain a broader knowledge of the teaching fields both in this country and abroad. The SNEA activities at Junior College include: outstanding speakers on educational fields and college opportunities, community services such as ushering for various J. C. functions, helping needy families, and planning activities for the enjoyment of its members.

People to People



It's volunteer time.

A regional chapter of the National People to People Association was formed at Junior College this year, in an effort to help promote better international understanding among the peoples and the nations of the world. P-T-P began the year with a program speaker, Dr. Jose Baldivieso, who is an outstanding leader in international affairs. Activities with foreign students from the K. C. area acquainted P-T-P members with the culture and customs of other countries, and rounded out a full and exciting year for this new organization.

(Left to right) Carolyn Jones, Sec.; Dean Bryant, advisor; Judy Towse, Pres.; Steve Webster, Vice Pres.

Dr. Jose' Baldiviesa was guest speaker at a tea.

Spanish Club

You have to break it, to get the goodies.

Whee-oop!

The Spanish Club of Junior College consists of many interested students of the Spanish culture and language. The club meetings offer an opportunity for the practical application of what the students learn in the class room. The highlight of the club's activities is the pinata party held shortly before the Christmas holidays. Other Spanish holidays are celebrated by the members with short skits which are used to exploin the full significance of the holiday.

Adios, hasta el ano que viene!!

Members re-enact the traditional Christmas Pilgrimage.

French Club

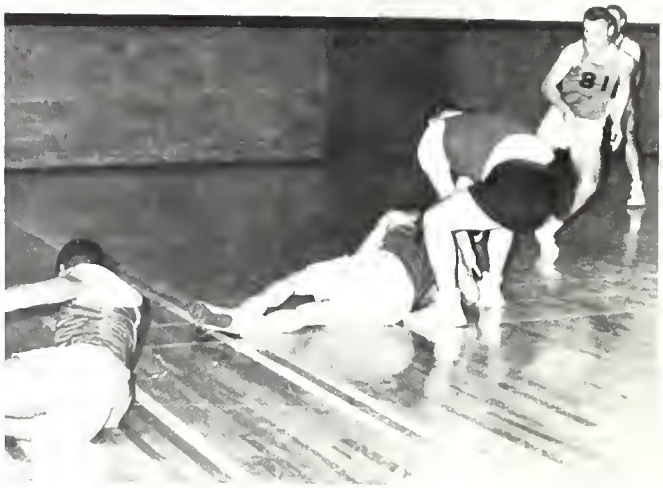
Miss Knatter, advisor, listens intently with her students

Bonjour amis!
Comment allez-vous?

Cries of this and many other appropriate French sayings can be heard as a meeting of the French Club, sponsored by Mlle. Knotter, begins. The French Club had another very active and exciting year. One of the many worthwhile activities undertaken by the French Club this year was the adoption of a needy family for Christmas. Tres bien!! Tres bien!!

Kin I got you sumpthin?

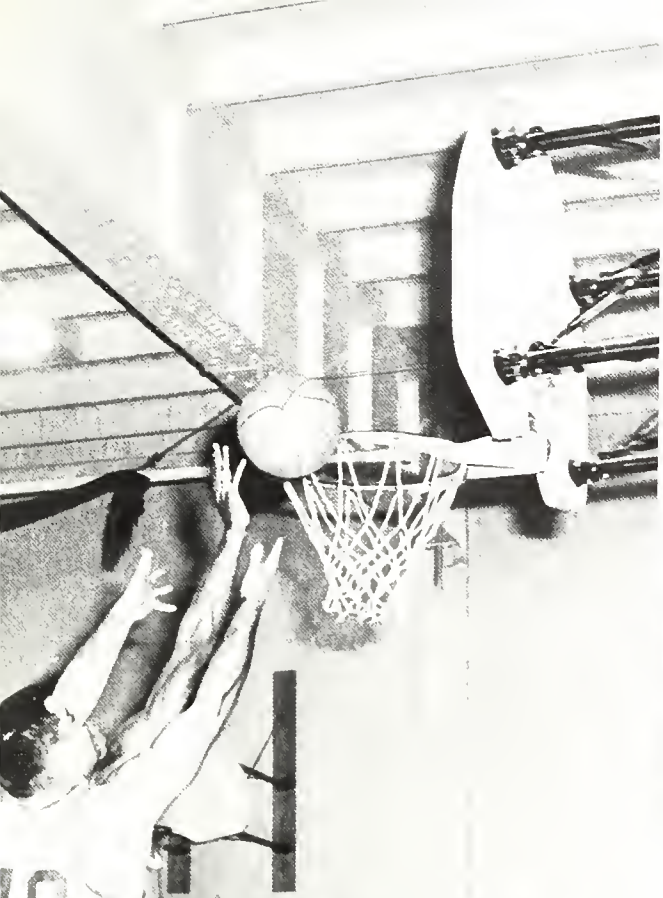
Nice catch!

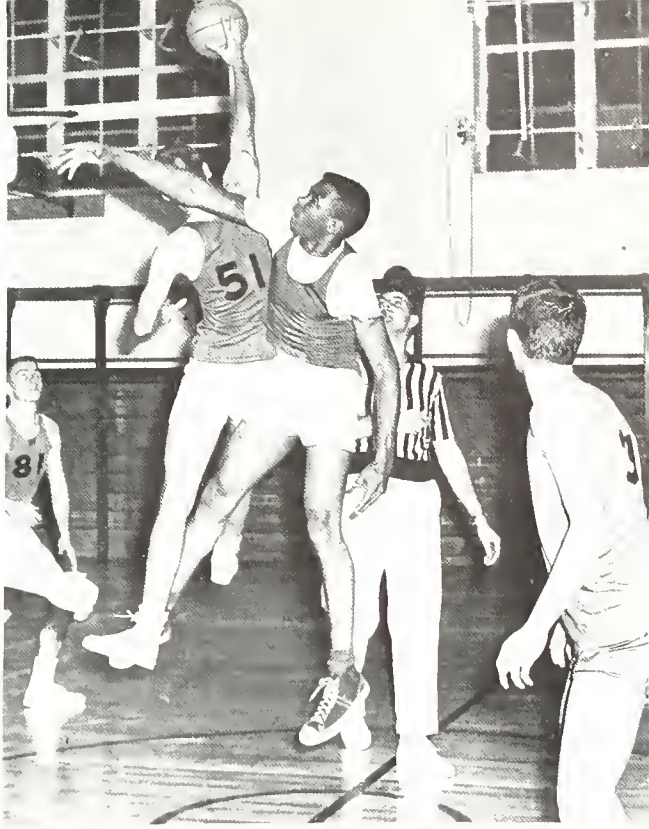


Well, they said they'd wipe up the floor with us.

BASKETBALL at J.C.

As the '62-'63 season of intramural basketball opened at Junior college, the competition between the five teams ran high. The Hawks, Wildcats, '69ers, Hustlers and "Champs" battled through the elimination tournament in a hard fought contest with only one team emerging the victor. The games, which were played in the evening, attracted many supporters for each of the teams, and provided plenty of action and excitement to the end of the play offs.





Ron Bond takes the ball on a jump, as the Hustlers go on to beat the '69ers.

fine arts festival

One of the cultural highlights of the year at Junior College, is the presentation of the fine arts festival. The three greats in the field of humanities were represented by the music, art, and dramatics departments, supplemented by contributions in dance by the Women's Physical Education Department and ending with a finale of refreshments arranged and served by the Home Economics Department. The College owes many thanks to the students and faculty members who worked so hard to produce one of the most outstanding programs presented at J. C. this year.

To Students, Patrons and Friends of Junior College

We congratulate the Staff of Sunburst '63 for an interesting story of the Junior College in the 48th year of its history! While performing an increasing area-wide service for higher education in metropolitan Kansas City, the Junior College provides, as this pictorial record shows, a climate that is wholesome and stimulating for a growing student body.

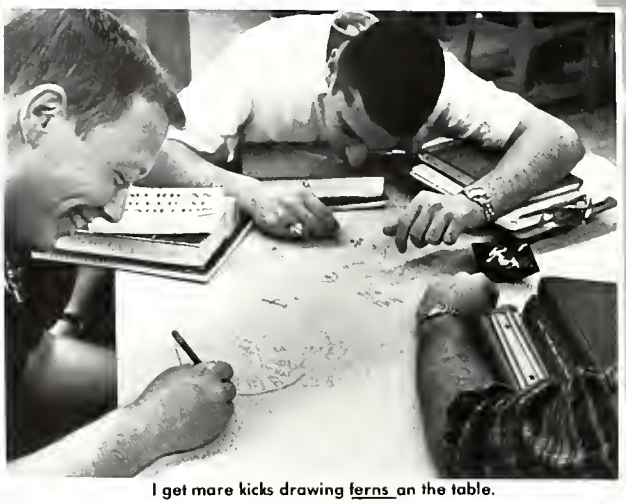
How do you tell the difference between the King and Queen?



I get more kicks drawing ferns on the table.

Escape Artist??

Wake her up so I can see what she looks like.

Ignite me!
